The diagram shows a circular pavilion with a central hub and 10 radial poles. The outer edge is a circle with a diameter of 16 feet (4.8 meters). There are 12 stakes in total: 10 are 6 feet (1.8 meters) side poles, and 2 are 4 feet (1.2 meters) stakes from the canopy. The entrance is 6 feet (1.8 meters) wide. The diagram includes a legend for Guy ropes (dotted lines) and Stabilizer ropes (dashed lines). A vertical double-headed arrow on the left indicates the 16-foot diameter. An arrow on the right indicates the 6-foot entrance width. A box in the top left contains the overall dimensions and entrance awning information. A box in the top right contains the tent name, specifications, and area. A box at the bottom left indicates the stake placement.
